

Snow Patrol, Make Up

If I could understand this better
I might be a little closer to you
Brushing my face with her hair
As she pushes past towards the door

That's a little ticklish but please just don't stop

She's probably heard this a million time before
The sweep of her brush is like a gentle lick
It seems to make her like everything you want
Cause if you didn't you'd want her soon enough

That's a little ticklish but please just don't stop.
