Snowden, Like Bullets

It's silent here it's violent you know Looking down from these dirty windows I push the pull too but when I see you move I know it's just business as usual

We can walk like bullets and talk like bullets In and out your face but you'll never notice

We can walk like bullets and talk like bullets Walk like bullets and talk like bullets

You are god and goddess of sex and stress Wasted on organization in excess And you got lost in a cycle of no progress Just rinse, repeat, remind and forget

We can walk like bullets and talk like bullets In and out your face but you'll never notice

We can walk like bullets and talk like bullets Walk like bullets and talk like bullets

Yeah they stole your attention with that static screen And I tried to steal it back but there was, there was nothing left And it took too many lies to satisfy your eyes Now I don't want to get, I don't want to get in your head

We can walk like bullets and talk like bullets In and out your face but you'll never notice
