

Snuff, Now You Don't Remember

Try to free myself from your grasp
But keep on making the same mistakes
You told me once that nothing lasts
Now you don't remember...

You drained me of all honesty
How much more of this can take
Now I crave my sanity
Now you don't remember

Now I realise those things you said
Look into my eyes
I'll try to forget
Now I realise those things you said...

You betrayed my trust
I tried too hard for the both of us
Now I crave my sanity
Now you don't remember

You drained me of all honesty
How much more of this can take
I'm locked up in a cage
Now you don't remember
