

So They Say, A Beautiful Plan

I wrote down, the best part of our story
To whom it may concern...I think your beautiful plan
LACKS STYLE! Imagine what they could do
With a little more time and a little more passion
Because you are trying too hard to get a reaction

Say the words right now to separate
The truth from your intentions
Your cold flesh tangled up in snakes
And it's just as I expected
But oh no, I don't think so
Save some breath for the ending [x2]

Why don't you make your move cause your acting like I'm on trial
Now the pieces are set and the game is emotion
Don't you forget the worst is yet to happen.

Say the words right now to separate
The truth from your intentions
Your cold flesh tangled up in snakes
And it's just as I expected
But oh no, I don't think so
Save some breath for the ending [x2]
