

So What, I Don't Want To Die Anymore

In a world which is cold like ice, which is hot like fire, love ain't easy.

I never knew, how to be for you,
what I can do, to make you happy.

You make me always wonder. One is a lonely number.

You seem to be, billion miles away,
in another galaxy, just never here.

All alone, when I'm coming home,
you're already gone, like the summer.

You make me always wonder. One is a lonely number.

I guess I spoke, another language,
not the lyrics, you understand.

If you can, stop to analyze,
bare the paradise, I'm your man.

You make me always wonder. One is a lonely number.

I don't want to die anymore
So let me live, baby
I don't waste my tears anymore
So cry for me, baby
I don't need tough talks anymore
It's been more than words, baby
I don't want to die anymore
