

So What, Let Me Be Your Lover Tonight

Sitting in Flight 455, the aircraft noise in my head,
just another bird in sky.
We are passing over anywhere, dreaming about where I was,
wish I still could be there.
Beside me they are eating, but I'm not hungry right now,
just my heart is beating.
Hours ago I flew without wings, when I was inside you,
and we made love and other things.
Why didn't you say: "Hell, I go with you!"? Why did you let me go alone?
Are you thinking about me, since I am gone?
Let me be your lover tonight,
let us take another flight,
let me swim into your eyes,
let us breaking again the ice.
Let me be your lover tonight.
Let me be your lover tonight,
let me just be by your side,
let us forget the reality,
let us be bad as we wanna be!
Let me be your lover tonight.
Now you are almost 800 miles away, why we didn't find a solution,
when there were thousand reasons to stay?
I remember the great time we had, I am smiling while I'm thinking, that I just left to coming back!
Come on babe, take your bag and let's go, walking!
Did I ever tell, that I like your talking?
Let me be your lover tonight,
let us take another flight,
let me swim into your eyes,
let us breaking again the ice.
Let me be your lover tonight.
Let me be your lover tonight,
let us just turn out the light,
let us get undressed,
let us feel the tenderness!
Let me be your lover tonight.
