

Social Burn, Rain On Me

You go to sleep by yourself cause you hold just like nobody else what can i do to make you see just how perfect you are to me cold blows the wind over my head when you rain on me

all your pain and suffering at times you rain on me i wish everybody could see cold blows the window over my head your scared cause your in the cold and your scared that you might go back home cause home has never been so great its a place that you love to hate cold blows the wind over our heads

when you rain on me
cold blows the wind outside
cold blows the window over our heads
