

Social Burn, Vacancy

Time sometimes gets away from me
I lost myself trying to make you see
Everytime you cry I lose my mind
I can't see who you need me to be
When you're lost as well in your vacancy
Locked up and waiting for the sun

(Chorus)

Cause it's raining where you are
I'm trying but it's too hard
Yeah it's raining where you are
But you can't run away from everything
So just fall back, fall back

It feels like hell when I'm dying inside
Searching to find some peace of mind
To make it seem like everything's not wrong
Just give me the key and let me in your room
I'll try my best not to make a move
I won't have to hurt you anymore

(Chorus)

Cause it's raining where you are
I'm trying but it's too hard
Yeah it's raining where you are
But you can't run away from everything
So just fall back, fall back

(Lead Break) (Chorus x2)