Socialburn, Everyone

How was I to know you'd ever leave How was I to know you cared for me When every time I looked at you You acted like I was a fool How was I to know the truth

With all the times you ran away I never thought that you would say I'm the one who's lonely now And all the times I never said I love you Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

How was I to know that I was wrong When I was talking during your favorite song How was I to know that I was right When I caught you in your lies the other night

With all the times you ran away I never thought that you would say I'm the one who's lonely now And all the times I never said well.. I love you Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

Everyone yeah (x3) With somebody and everyone else

But Somehow I know We're gonna be alright But Somehow I know We're gonna be fine

How was I to know that I was wrong When I was talking during your favorite song

With all the times you ran away I never thought that you would say I'm the one who's lonely now And all the times I never said well.. I love you Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

Everyone yeah (x3)
With somebody and everyone else
Everyone yeah (x3)
With somebody and everyone else