

Society's Finest, Marshall Reality

Do you need me to shove your head underwater
just to make you drink?

I'm not mentioning any names, Tyler.
Your ignorance has gone too far.
Your brain's full of static,
your drugs have ruined a man

"Drink the water of Truth; no I'll drown in my pool of lies."

I'll never understand why you try so hard to disbelieve,

You're not listening to me.
I asked you a question.
Why you've taken it this far, I don't know.
This will be your restraint.
If you can still see me, close your eyes and pretend I'm not really here
