

Socratic, Sleepless Nights

I know that the summer is over
I can't wait til the weather gets colder
Every night will freeze over
It's just another sleepless night

After all the things we've been through
Tell me, how many friends must we lose?

Speak the words that were never spoken
Windows to my heart, they still stay broken
So run me over with your car
I'll probably feel better than you do
Just one more ride around
Bodies scraping on the ground
I promise I won't make a sound

I know that the summer is over,
I can't wait til the weather gets colder
Every night will freeze over..

I'm dying but I'm still getting older
It's just another sleepless night
I know it's hard starting over
Especially when everything's frozen over
In September
I will swim out to sea
Cause I want to make my whole body turn dark blue
And then I think I will feel like you

After all the things I put you through,
It's just another sleepless night.
