

SOFI TUKKER, Hey Homie

When I met you
I knew I'd never get to love you
But there's something about the way you hold my hand that Makes me feel at home
Isn't it obvious
That you're not age appropriate
But there's something about the way we listen to music that Makes me hear it different
Hey homie
Let me love u lowkey
It's just a little love
But it's something holy
Somebody would get hurt
If we took it further
Let me love u lowkey
We found our rhythm
Dancing in circles around
Whatever we both know it is
But it's better like this anyway
I know I should let go of you
But every time you call I
I pick up the phone
