

Sofie, Where I Belong

seven days before i die six days before i try to survive
five days before i grew four days before i knew three days now don't have space if this is my living place two days before i speak one day before i go weak

oh
where do i belong
when i sing this song
i'm allowed to play pain games
but harder to stab me in the rain
pain's can't just be wrong
this is where i belong
hold me tightly so you could see
how you would set me free

the thirteenth day is no lifetime all the people taught me crime piercing all my body parts smoking while i kiss my heart one nite stand with the boy next door while he's up i'm on the floor but i die in a bathtub within someone who can't react

the second day
no misery
count my ways
for vanity
share your soul
with me
so i can set free
yeaaaa
yea yea yea YEA

seven days i die that time six days i did a crime five days one nite stand with the boy next door four days i slam the door three days shivering now two days don't know how this happened

one day just sitting still

(guitar solo)
