

Softcore, I Want To Hear Your Voice Again

I want to hear your voice again
You're still living in my soul
I just want to hold your hand
Now you are gone
And I can't take anymore
I don't want to still crying for your life
My heart now is with you in a place so far away
I want to hear your voice again
You're still living in my heart
But I know that someday the sun
It will light my fucking life
Everytime is harder without you without you my heart is still with you in a place far away
I won't listen your voice again
I'll know you're looking after my soul, my soul
My heart is always with you in a place so far away
So far away from here