

Soilwork, Rejection Role

I'm the result of an
Ageless redemption
A body with a
Heartless convention
A face with a smile that's
Been shut down for years
Facing the facts of
My generation...cause
I'm a sinner, a winner
My blood is getting thinner
I might as well get another life
Cause I've been there
I know what's been said
And I know what's been done
Don't you tell me
I'm the only one, cause I..

I will be there looking for something
Coming straight out of nothing
Just killing time
Facing those walls so black, so vile
I really am waiting for nothing
Coming straight out of something
Just killing time
Facing those walls so black, so vile

Now put your trust
In a solid machine
Filled with words that
Hve never been seen
A plague to insatiable
Charged with mankind's
Raw energy
I rumble, I stumble
My memory starts to crumble
I can't refuse what's Haunting my dreams
Have I stumbled?
On my way to a created perfection
I penetrate the gates of rejection

I will be there looking for something
Coming straight out of nothing
Just killing time
Facing those walls so black, so vile
I really am waiting for nothing
Coming straight out of something
Just killing time
Facing those walls so black, so vile

There's no determination
Echoes of a failed gallery
There's yet extermination
Inside us all, screaming

-Solo-

I will be there looking for something
Just killing time
Facing those walls so black, so vile

Coming straight out of nothing
Facing those walls so black, so vile
