

SoleDriver, Rise Again

When you've waited for so long
And every day feels more than wrong
Remember nights when you could fly
So high above the sky

Memories are standing there
The Good, the bad
They're everywhere
No time to run, no time to hide
Your heart is built to care

Don't blame yourself or compromise
You've got the chance
This is your time

To Rise Again
In a world that never mends
It carries on and
And always spins
It's waiting there for you
To Rise Again

I know how you are feeling
Believe me when I say
You've had the spirit in you
From the moment
Of your first day

I see what's going on inside
In me you know you can confide
The candles burning brighter
The weight is getting lighter

Keep The Faith
And don't deny
You'll lose some battles
Not the fight

So Rise Again
In a world that never mends
It carries on
And always spins
