

Solex, Waking Up With Solex

In the morning we soaped each other down.
Smooth down my nightgown. Hungry, 'cause the smells from the kitchen filled the room.
Don't wear your perfume today. "We had this habbit, ...we did."
...and your water 's sloshing against the sides of the bathtub. And I smeared our faces with cream.
