

Solomon'S Wish, Learning To Fly

Hit the light Say goodnight
To all my hopes and my fears Beyond this lonely heart there lies a better world Right there in the middle of my doubt I hear a voice callin' out
Are you gonna trust me, son?
(Are you gonna trust me, son?)

'Cause you're learnin' to fly
Like a bird in the sky
You're learnin' to try the ways of love
Though it's gonna take time
You're just begining to fly on the wings of love,
And you're gonna get there

More and more
Now I see
My faith becomes reality
I learn to trust you as I'm reaching for the sky
You give me hope, you help me cope With the problems of this day You're waiting there to greet me
No power can defeat me

Cause i'm learning to fly
like a bird in the sky,
i'm just beginingto try the ways of love though it's gonna time
i'm just begining to fly on the wings of love

I'm learning to trust, cause i know that i must belive in the one who has given his son it's giving me hope knowing i've just begun to rise above and soar upon the wings I'm learning to try the ways of love
though it's gonna take time,
i'm just begining to fly on the wings of love

I'm learning to fly
like a bird in the sky
I'm learning to try the ways of love
though it's gonna take time
i'm just begining to fly on the wings of love
an i'm gonna get there

i'm learning to fly