

Somersault, Break The Wave

I don't wanna write only sad songs
I do what I can but it won't hold long
I start with a kiss and a birdcall
Then drown a kitten in the waterfall

I know I'm such looser
I do my best to change the mess

But I can't break the wave
I can't break the wave
No, I can't break it

I just wanna write you a love song
But all of my words end up depressed on their own
I'm trying to sing about sunlight
Of all what I've seen and that the grass is so green

I know I'm such looser
I do my best to change the mess

But I can't break the wave
I can't break the wave
No, I can't break it
