Something Corporate, Break Myself

I'm on fire And the day is feeling hopeless You'd see me burning but the burning's turning smokeless Soon I won't feel at all No

It's electric the neon hurt inside your phone call The letter's sadness and the madness it revolves Bringing down the walls where you found love No

Well, I'm willing to break myself To shake this hell from everything I touch I'm willing to bleed for days my reds and grays So you don't hurt so much

And now I'm static
As your sky is turning purple and gray
I'm learning that the further that I crawl
The farther that I fall, is that ok?
No

And you're in pieces
As your world becomes a rainstorm
You've got no shelter I'm a thousand miles away
You'll survive the day

You say your leaving You say your leaving

Well, I'm willing to break myself To shake this hell from everything I touch I'm willing to bleed for days my reds and grays So you don't hurt so much

So you don't hurt so much

Never again will we fire this gun No never again your the only one No never again but you're already gone.

I'm willing to break myself I'm not afraid I'm willing to break myself I'm not afraid I'm willing to break myself I'm not afraid

Well, I'm willing to break myself To shake this hell from everything I touch I'm willing to bleed for days my reds and grays So you don't hurt so much
