Something For Kate, Hawaiian Robots

I could barely recognise myself sitting here, for question I was trying to guess my name and my favourite colour But your guess is as good as mine We had an idea, a brilliant idea washed in fluorescent light But the light here was good and i can taste the food And i'm better off, i'm better off I'm better off as a robot, I'm better off in hawaii (x4) I could barely recognise myself sitting there, occupations I was trying to work out who was you and who was me And how this happened I got an idea, a brilliant idea Hiding in my boat somewhere I'll be writing in the sand with a battery in my hand to keep them goin, and I'll be better off I'm better off as a robot, I'm better off in Hawaii (x4)
