

Something For Kate, Jerry Stand Up

jerry stand up pull back the curtains and let some light in quit your job because you hate it and it's wasting you once upon a time you were running singing to the ground every morning once upon a time you were
jerry stand up
am i the only one who's noticed that you've been missing remember yourself man remember that you have chance and possibility
once upon a time you were crazy jerry you're not getting any younger all you need is fresh air a nice new suit and a walk in the park every day or two
every day in every way
every day
repeat chorus
(once upon a time . . . crazy . . . [numerous times])
