

Something For Kate, You Only Hide... so I keep watch and you keep breaking breaking formation to become someone else

and your eyes become corridors where I wander with a candle calling out to you and you only hide because you know i'll find you you say you just want to feel the way you used to feel the way you should feel and I wander through the lost city of you and you only hide because you know i'll find you
