

Son Of A Plumber, Carousel

you've been ridin' on her carousel you've been ridin' on the carousel you saw history repeat itself you didn't want to fall in love with her didn't want to fall in love at all why do people fall in love at all?

after a day like this
you can never go home
never go home

she takes you in and it wears you out
somehow it just wears you out

after a kiss like this
never come home
