

Sondre Lerche, All Lucky Ran Out

They were seen hi-jacking someones car they drove far away and its in the news, the papers too its all around They came here to steal the things they lack:
computer equipment and chemical stuff cause we have have enough we give it away Its this simple: you believe someone gives and you receive but somewhere along the way all luck ran out again Now they live in nevernever-land claiming theyre tourists They light up the crowd and dont talk too loud anymore
