

Sonic City, Further I Fall

Where's the bridge that you have broken
tossed away all your thoughts and now I will let you go

Where's the world you bear for honesty
cuz I can see everything it's in front of me
and are you done

I'm falling so fast
I'm seeing no ground
I'm losing the battle
that can't be won
want to work it all out
want to take what's inside and leave you without

I've taken the time that you had asked for gave you everything I had and look what you've become

And where's the bridge that you have broken
tossed away all these thoughts and memories
they fade like a ghost

I'm falling so fast
I'm seeing no ground
I'm losing this battle
and leave you without

Why can't I make it easier and I will find a way I said why can't I make it easier
and I will find a way

I'm falling so fast
I'm seeing no ground
