

Sonic City, So Far Away

On a Monday
Was the last day
And to think that I was going through
This without you

And now it feels like
Kinda tastes like
All the fear when I'm alone in my room
And where are you

I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to be so far away
I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to breathe the morning air

I was left with empty spaces
And a wall that I had run into
Divides me and you
And I don't want to fade away
But inside I'm alone and I feel so scared
And wide awake still thinking of your face

I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to be so far away
I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to breathe the morning air

You're always in my
You're always in my mind
And you were drowning too
And you were drowning too

You're always in my
Always in my mind
You're drowning too
You're drowning too

I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to be so far away
I believe that I'm fallin'
Nobody hears me callin'
How's it feel to breathe the morning air
