

Sonic City, Soul Cold Rage

Started to think about my life today and desperation has many turns I've been blind to a heart that's been filled with flames I can't let this become any worse
give me times
I'll take my turn

How long do we live awake living every day and our last mistakes so go on I don't need a thing
this will keep me safe
from your soul cold rage

Part of me has died with its last regret damaged by everyone in sight damned by a lover but I'll be damned if I will leave this place without a fight well give me time to take my turn my turn

How long do we live awake living every day and our last mistakes
So go on I don't need a thing
this will keep me safe
from your soul cold rage

Never mind I know we both are waiting for in our minds we are blind and I won't be here to be the one still crawling at your feet so why

How long do we live awake
living every day and our last mistakes
so go on I don't need a thing
this will keep me safe
from your soul cold rage

Living everyday with your soul cold rage