Sonny & Cher, When You Find Out Where You're

When you find out where you're goin' Let me know Cause I love you just enough To let you go

While you're running free and clear Please don't disappear When you find out where you're goin' Let me know

When you find out where you're goin'
Count me in
And I'll never put you down
For where you've been
And I'll join you when you find
That peace within your mind
When you find out where you're goin'
Let me know

I'm letting go for one night And I know we'll be alright Though he may never come back When he leaves my bed tonight

When you find out where you're goin'
Let me know
And I promise I won't say "I told you so"
And when the time comes that you say
"You finally found your way"
Then no matter where you are
Be sure I know
Then no matter where you are
Be sure I know, oh
