

Sonny Moore, Signal

What is the significance, in playing the part?
A smiling temperament, a sour tongue
Can you see behind the shadows, They poison my eyes.
Something more than weeping angels, burn into my mind.
I won't forget to
I won't forget to
But I won't forget you
I won't forget you
But I won't protect you
I won't protect you
But I can't pretend to
I can't pretend to
Sinking on the way to us(?)
Border(?) to a part without a title
There's a part of me, in a part of you, in a little change, in a part of you
There's a part of me, in a part of you, in a little change, in a part of you
I won't forget you
I won't forget you
Someone's gotta keep me alone(?)
I won't forget you
I won't forget you
I won't forget you
I won't forget you
But I can't pretend to
I can't pretend to
Cover this soul/song/sun(?)
But I needed change from you
Cover this soul/song/sun(?)
But I needed change
But I needed change
There's a part of me, in a part of you, in a little chain, in a part of you
There's a part of me, in a part of you, in a little chain, in a part of you
I won't forget you
Someone's gotta keep me alone(?)
Someone's gotta keep me alone(?)
Someone's gotta keep me alone(?)
Cover this soul/song/sun?
But I needed change from you
Cover this soul/song/sun?
But I needed change
But I needed change