

Sophie Ellis-Bextor, Cry To The Beat Of The Band

I'm in the heart of winter
How I drag the spring
As the snow is falling down

Can't be locked forever
I keep remembering
Each day brings it closer now

Cry to the beat of the band

He's gonna cry
Cry to the beat of the band
Break to the clap of the hands

I left the church in ruins
He didn't see me go
The congregation straight ahead

And do I kept on running
And by now he'll know
That he wishes I was dead

Never have I felt so cruel but something had to give Killing this deceitful love's the only way we'll live

He's gonna cry
Cry to the beat of the band
Break to the clap of the hands

We're gonna cry
Cry to the beat of the band
Sing til the bitter end
We're gonna cry to the beat of the band

Heavy is the head that wears the veil
Heavy is the head that wears the veil
Heavy is the head that wears the veil
Heavy is the head

He's gonna cry
Cry to the beat of the band
Break to the clap of the hands
I'm gonna keep on running

Cry to the beat of the band
Sing til the bitter end
We're gonna cry...
