Sophie Ellis-Bextor, What Have We Started?

My eyes don't lie They show the truth I've fallen for you To fight it's no use I promised myself I'd never give in But your love won me around My feet left the ground And so here I go again [Chorus:] What have we started? Don't break this heart of mine Have I been fool enough To let you walk away with all of me? What have we started? I'm so far in this time That if you hurt me now I may never love again Look at me now I'm under your spell Where does our story end? It's for you to tell See I'm old enough now To understand love

What it's capable of
And the pain it can cause
Oh but here I go again
[Chorus]
I don't want to waste this chance
You could be well worth the danger
Better to have loved and lost
But it's so hard to say now I've given my heart away
[Chorus]
