

Sophie Lloyd, Imposter Syndrome (feat. Lzzy Hale)

I'm an imposter
Just a pretender
All of my worst fears whisper in the dark
I scream at the mirror
Not to believe them
And pick up the pieces of my shattered heart

Breakin' outta my head
Shake it outta my mind
Through all the tears I cry I

Smile for a million faces
And wait for the mask to fall
I hide from my darkest demons

That don't exist after all
And my monsters are just
Shadows on the wall

Nobody's perfect
Do I deserve this?
All of my dreams burn bright like shooting stars
Am I just lucky?
Maybe I'm crazy
Somebody wake me before I give it up, give it up

Breakin' outta my head
Shake it outta my mind
Will I survive this time and

Smile for a million faces
And wait for the mask to fall
I hide from my darkest demons
That don't exist after all
And my monsters are just
Shadows on the wall

Scream at the mirror
When all of my worst fears
Are whispering in the dark
Scream til' it shatters
Tell all my monsters
To disappear with the sun

Smile for a million faces
And wait for the mask to fall
I fight through my darkest demons
That don't exist after all
I'm an imposter
I'm an imposter
Tell all my monsters
I'm waking up, waking up

Smile for a million faces
And wait for the mask to fall
That don't exist after all
