Sophie Zelmani, Always You

If it wasn't the ocean
Wasn't the breezes
Wasn't the white sand
There might be no need
If I could sleep through the cool nights
If I could breathe and eat right
If I had worked all summer
Maybe I wouldn't feel so humble
Oh you, it's always you
It's always you
If red roses weren't so lovely
If wine didn't taste so good
If stars weren't so romantic
Then I could do what I should
Oh you, it's always you
It's always you
If your love I could command it
Get your head to understand it
I'd go twice around the world
E ven though I wouldn't find it
