

Sophie Zelmani, Excuse Me

Why the spear in your eyes
When I try to see you
Don't you know it's beyond me
Just to have you here
Some people would say
Im only dreaming
So how come I feel you
Just about everywhere

So excuse me if I say that I could die for this world you showing me now

Why your doubt in your voice
When I try to tell you
Cant you see me standing
Right beside you
Some people would say
That it could have been magic But I wont forget the magic Like I dont forget that day

So excuse me if I say that I could die for this world
you showing me now
So excuse me if I say that I could die for this world
you showing me now
