

Soraya, Bliss

I want it to go on and on inhale your breath to fill my lungs hold you till youve become my skin and I feel you from within a singular sensation, so perfect and so fine

Can you live your life in one embrace drink too much of the sweetest taste can you die from sheer happiness can you heart stop beating from bliss can your heart stop beating from bliss

I want to turn the lights down low trace your body onto my soul drink you kiss like vintage wine blur the lines that divide
a singular sensation, so perfect and so fine

Can you live your life in one embrace
can you die from sheer happimess
