Soul Asylum, Growing Into You

You never grow out of mischief making You never grow out of taking You never grow out of complicating When simple things are waiting But I'm growing into you I'm growing into you There's one thing that I know that's perfectly clear You never grow out of fear You never grow out of fear You never grow out of contemplating When it ain't worth debating You never grow out of mistake making You never grow out of faking But I'm growing into you I'm growing into you There's one thing that I know that's perfectly clear You never grow out of fear You never grow out of fear I'm growing into you I'm growing into you There's one thing that I know that's perfectly clear You never grow out of fear (x6) And will I ever, ever, ever get over it
