

Souljahz, Reflection

Intro

I wanna smile, I wanna laugh, I wanna cry
Want you to see your reflection in my face

The brilliance of your smile let's me know
That you care for me always there for me
And you'll never let me go
Every minute of my time
Every hour of my life
Every second of everyday
I will praise your Holy name

CHORUS:

I wanna smile, I wanna laugh, I wanna cry
I wanna make it through the day
Cause there's no stopping me when you're by my side
Oh Lord want you to see your reflection in my face

I can see the hourglass of time slippin' away
With no excuses for my shame
In a world that measures our success
By where we're at but not how we got there
I think we're sinking deeper everyday
If I had a dime for every tabloid mocking His return
I would be a millionaire oh and still they'd never learn
Use this fool to shame the wise
Remove the pride that blinds their eyes
Be my sail so I can drift way. Oh Lord

CHORUS

I wanna smile, I wanna laugh, I wanna cry
I wanna make it through the day
Cause there's no stopping me when you're by my side
Oh Lord want you to see your reflection in my face
