Soulrelic, Burned To Ashes

We are made to die and born again Until the ones we hurt no longer feel the pain Desire haunts Were falling like rain to kill the flame of our love And in your arms I cannot be saved We have no heart to say goodbye No strengh to hold on We wither away and burn to ashes all we have The wind is cold where we are one with the ones We loved and slowly burn our hearts to light the dark Can the words we say renew the broken dream? Or will our hearts bleed again until we drown this sin? We have no heart to say goodbye No strengh to hold on We wither away and burn to ashes all we have We have no heart to say goodbye No strengh to hold on We wither away and burn to ashes all we have We have no heart to say goodbye No strengh to hold on We wither away and burn to ashes all we have When all is gone, we are alone And love is a lie we both believed If its not in thy veins, youll never understand