

Soulrelic, Tears of Deceit

Frail like a dream, we believe in tragedy that never fails
And our eyes share no more tears
In front of me you will break, but its meant to be this way
I wont waste my dreams on you
We were strangers of lust
Embraced by hate and darkest dust
By the stream of a dream
We drowned our tears
Tears of deceit
When life will bring us to grieve and despair is our song
We sing along and cherish the moment
I dont know why we buried our love with a smile
And then I believed we could heal hearts with our tears
We were strangers of lust
Embraced by hate and darkest dust
By the stream of a dream
We drowned our tears
Tears of deceit
Love is a lie we both believed
