Soulrelic, Tears of Deceit

Frail like a dream, we believe in tragedy that never fails And our eyes share no more tears In front of me you will break, but its meant to be this way I wont waste my dreams on you We were strangers of lust Embraced by hate and darkest dust By the stream of a dream We drowned our tears Tears of deceit When life will bring us to grieve and despair is our song We sing along and cherish the moment I dont know why we buried our love with a smile And then I believed we could heal hearts with our tears We were strangers of lust Embraced by hate and darkest dust By the stream of a dream We drowned our tears Tears of deceit Love is a lie we both believed