

Soulrelic, The Key

Only you can save me from this night
Show the path and guide me to the light
When the life I never chose to wait
Is fading back into the shades
I want you here with me
Cant you see how it hurts to be alone and lost like a leaf
Fallen from tree and the wind is too cold
You are the one who can cure these wounds
Take my hand Im too tired to walk here alone
Without you I closed all the doors
You are the one with the key
I run for days and crawl for miles
For the life I lost inside the night
Will you be there to resque me
Or let me fade back into the shades?
I want you here with me
Cant you see how it hurts to be alone and lost like a leaf
Pain pours like rain and the wind is too cold
You are the one who can cure these wounds
Take my hand Im too tired to walk here alone
Without you I closed all the doors
You are the one with the key
You are the one who can cure these wounds
Take my hand Im too tired to walk here alone
Without you I closed all the doors
You are the one with the key
