Soulwax, Temptedly Yours

Maybe I'm wrong but I could've sworn I saw your eye twitch. Didn't object, what did you expect? Now I have to beg you:

Don't come back to tempt me. I'm happy in my misery.

You asked what I did, I did what you asked, but I couldn't get it right from the start you went for my heart, now i have to ask you

Don't come back to tempt me. I'm happy in my misery.

It was your idea in the first place and I know it takes two but on certain days I try not to think of how it would be if....

I don't pretend to know where it ends wish I could care less. One time I cried more in 1994 but that doesn't count I guess
