

SoundQ, The Ritual

There's so much love whirling all around us like the Sufi
Up above free of all the madness I'm finally lucid

I'm gonna stand up straight devoid of shame
Strip myself of doubt and blame
I'll wait here for the sunrise to scorch my face

And when the new day comes I'll be reborn
With empty head with all clothes torn
Free of the heavy burden I'll make my way back to Berlin...

So many days drowning in the ocean of mindless fury so little space, it makes every step so big and scary

I could have shouted out what I chose to seal
Pursued my cause with glowing zeal
That lay deep down inside me throughout the years

They tried to cut me off but I chose to stay
I'll wait until I've had my say
The hounds are long awaiting o be unleashed in Berlin...

I'm gonna stand up straight devoid of shame
Strip myself of doubt and blame
I'll wait here for the sunrise to scorch my face

And when the new day comes I'll be reborn
With empty head with all clothes torn
Free of the heavy burden I'll make my way back to Berlin...
