

Spain, Wold Of Blue

Walked away released from all my crimes
Walked away released from all my crimes
But I could never hide what I kept inside
Walked away released from all my sins
Walked away released from all my sins
But the cruelest thing was all my suffering
When I held you that night, I knew it felt so right
I knew it felt so right
Walked away released from all my crimes
Walked away released from all my crimes
But I could never hide what I kept inside
