

Spanky & Our Gang, Yesterday's Rain

Yesterday's rain brings tomorrow's pain Going round my head,
those feelings are dread
love has lost, you payed the cost with a broken dream and still it seems I can't get out from under my cloud, and see the light of day.

Yesterday's rain falls again and again,
and makes me feel the worlds not real.

Yesterday came just to bring me misery till I can see
over my head,
the darkness spreads
to morning light that raised from the night.

And all around the tears are falling, to the earth so hungry.

Yesterday's rain falls again and again,
and makes me feel the worlds not real.

Spin to the ground,
hearing not a sound,
thoughts inside my head
are going round and round.
I got my mind made up,
but I can't never go,
friends all around me,
and I'm still all alone.
Running through the trees,
my hands above my head, trying to escape the rest.

Yesterday's rain falls again and again,
and makes me feel the worlds not real.
Over my head, the darkness spreads.

Oh! Yesterday's rain brings tomorrow's pain Going round my head,
those feelings are dread
love has lost, you payed the cost.

Yesterdays Rain...
Yesterdays Rain...
Yesterdays Rain...
