

Sparkadia, The Last Thing You Need

I know when something's just not right,
I know the way you lie to me,
I've seen it before the way you let them get to you, change your ways and points of view, you're nothing but a fool

It's the last thing you need

You think they'll wait around for you,
You think they're just the same as you,
You mean nothing to them
Wants and needs are different beasts, They'll suck you dry until you bleed,
Bleed from all sides

It's the last thing you need
It's the last thing you need in your life

Only time lets you see the way you change so easily
You don't need no one else
Just believe in yourself
