

Speak No Evil, Downside

cooler in the shade sipping lemonade watching me burn in the sun who are you to judge let go of your grudge you might be the next one
The one to fumble

invitation to starvation
see the situation on the other side devastation all around you repercussion everywhere you try to hide no cares for you, when your bills are due and there's no place for you to turn voices come and go, telling me what i know time to go do it all again, and again, and again

welcome to the downside

everything everything fuck everything, everything all i want is everything
