

Spice Girls, A Day In Your Life

Remember...

I treasure...

The world can be so cold and such a lonely place

When you're out there on your own

In a crowd it seems you're just another face

And you're feeling so alone

You've got the live for the moment yeah

Before the moment is gone

You've gotta dance like there's nobody watching you

And you've gotta love like you've never been hurt

And everytime that someone tries to bring you down

Remember, it's a day in your life

So treasure every day in your life

You've gotta live beyond your limitations

And keep your dreams alive

Even though you're feeling this frustration

You've gotta push it all aside

You've got to look to the future

Before the future is here

You've gotta dance like there's nobody watching you

And you've gotta love like you've never been hurt

And everytime that someone tries to bring you down

Remember, it's a day in your life

So treasure every day in your life

When the odds are stacked against you

Hold on tight

We'll weather the storm

When you're feeling under pressure

We'll pull together

Like never before

You've gotta dance like there's nobody watching you

And you've gotta love like you've never been hurt

And everytime that someone tries to bring you down

Remember, it's a day in your life

So treasure every day in your life

You've gotta dance like there's nobody watching you

And you've gotta love like you've never been hurt

And everytime that someone tries to bring you down

Remember, it's a day in your life
