

Spirit Of The West, Polaroid

Sometimes you get the scare of your life when you least expect it
In a gas station reading someone elses nightmare Like a kick in the head for this first time father that's why...

I believe we're right in being paranoid
I believe that monsters are for real
It's crystal clear in this grainy polaroid

White T-Shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes

Sometimes you get afraid of your life cause you can't protect it and we leave ourselves exposed through trusting
In a world where little things go missing that's why...

I believe we're right in being paranoid
I believe that monsters are for real
It's crystal clear in this grainy polaroid

White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes

There's something out there, I don't know what it is Naa-haa there's something out there, I'm afraid of what it is Naa-haa there's something out there, I don't know what it is Naa-haa there's something out there

Sometimes life gets in the way of living
And we're brought to our senses by the senseless
We wake up in the house of uncounted blessings that's why...

I believe we're right in being paranoid
I believe that monsters are for real
It's crystal clear in this grainy polaroid

White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
White T-shirt, pink dress, no shoes
